

GERMANY ACCEPTS BLAME FOR SUSSEX

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 10.—Acceptance by Germany of responsibility for the attack on the Channel liner Sussex, which Berlin cables say has been done, has greatly pleased administration officials. They say that this will clear up all matters in doubt between the United States and Germany and will make possible an early settlement of the question of indemnity to those Americans who were injured or lost their effects. It is understood that Count von Bernstorff plans soon to take the matter up with the state department and suggest a basis for a monetary settlement of all claims. The note accepting responsibility has not yet reached the state department but it was looked for probably late today. Meanwhile the possibility of another effort being made to bring about peace in Europe was interesting official circles today. Diplomatic circles believe that an effort is being made by Pope Benedict and King Alfonso of Spain to bring the warring nations together. Confidential reports reaching certain of the embassies say that the Spanish king is expected very soon to suggest an armistice during which the powers can send representatives to a conference for discussing peace terms. Generally diplomats here consider the present time unpropitious for any tentative action because of the belief that a new offensive is shortly to be attempted by the Anglo-French-Russian forces on the western front. All information regarding any messages which may have been exchanged between the Vatican and President Wilson is withheld here. Even the text of the communication left for the president by the apostolic delegate, Most Rev. John Bonzano, last Saturday, is withheld. It is understood, however, that President Wilson is convinced that any tender of mediation at the present time would be misunderstood and that he has practically decided that there is nothing he can do at the present moment in the interest of peace. The last word which the president has received dealing with the attitude of the Entente Allies was that from the Ambassador Thomas Nelson Page, who told the president that he did not believe they would consider any proposition to end the war until after they had pushed to completion certain movements now being planned. It is understood that the president believes that the war will continue throughout this summer, but that he expects the belligerents will be in a receptive mood and that then it may be possible to take steps which will bring the war to an end.

COAST ARTILLERY ORDERED TO TEXAS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, May 10.—The end of "watchful waiting" in Mexico is believed to be in sight. Convinced that a break with Carranza inevitably must come, even though the parleys between Scott and Obregon should result in an agreement—something officials consider "unlikely," army officials are perfecting all plans for the sending of additional forces to the border. Last night's order to some 1,000 coast artillery men to report to San Antonio as infantry is believed to be the forerunner of orders to the available forces of 13,000 men of that branch of the service to proceed to the border. In addition, it is considered certain that within a very short time additional National Guard forces will be ordered out for active service. Already the White House and the war department is being besieged with requests from the organized militia for a chance for field service. It is understood that for the present no orders will be issued until after General Funston has had an opportunity to adjust stations for the troops placed at his disposal yesterday. But as soon as these men are at their stations, orders for reinforcements will be issued as it is now the intention of the administration to make the border bandit-proof.

Incidentally officials are closely watching the Carranzista troops who are along the lines held by General Pershing. They are not being trusted to any extent and it is known that Pershing has ordered that every possible precaution be taken to prevent a surprise attack at any point. The belief has attained conviction in the minds of practically every army officer here in Washington that the raid on Glen Springs was ordered by a Carranzista official and that it was conducted by Carranzista troops. The denial by Ambassador Designate Arredondo is not accepted by the army officers who know just what is going on on the border. They declare that the effort to blame all of the trouble on the Magoonistas, who are known chiefly as the "Mexican W. W. W." was forecasted by official statements recently given out in Mexico City. And in this connection attention again is directed to the fact that the Ambassador Designate himself is admittedly strongly anti-American. Although it is known that the president is very anxious to avoid general intervention in Mexico, and is prepared to make as many concessions as possible to give Carranza his opportunity to demonstrate that he can control the situation, the general feeling in official circles today was that all that will be obtained if Obregon and Scott reach an agreement will be a postponement of the time when this country must restore order south of the Rio Grande. Very few officials here believe that Carranza will be able to control matters very much longer and when the break comes conditions so chaotic as to force action by the United States are certain to result. There still is much mystery concerning the whereabouts of Felix Diaz. He is somewhere in the south of Mexico and officials would not be surprised to learn at any time that he had started his march northward against Carranza. It is understood here that Diaz has practically unlimited financial resources and that he has sufficient arms and munitions to maintain a very formidable revolutionary movement. There are many officials here in Washington, especially in congress, who favor the Diaz movement, as they claim he would be able to command the financial support which Carranza has failed to get and that if he got control of the government he would be able to maintain it. And officials very frankly state that the great danger of the Carranza rule is his utter inability to raise money to meet the obligations he assumed when he secured recognition.

SUBMARINES WORK FARTHER FROM SHORE

New Type Being Used. With Wider Range of Activity—Report Made by Captain of the Cymric.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, May 10.—That German submarines are extending their operations farther and farther into the Atlantic is shown by the fact that the White Star freighter Cymric was torpedoed 138 miles west of Ireland.

Four men were killed by the explosion of the torpedo. A fifth victim was drowned while leaving the ship. All on board the Cymric were English citizens, excepting two Belgians and a Russian. The six consular passengers on board, all of whom were saved, were British citizens whose admittance into the United States had been refused by the immigration authorities. They were being sent back to England by the British consul in New York City.

OBREGON SCARED BY A LITTLE FIRMNESS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., May 10.—Realizing that Uncle Sam "means business," General Alvaro Obregon, Mexico's minister of war, is seeking a way in which to withdraw gracefully the demands of the de facto government that American troops in Mexican territory immediately return to their own country. The action of the United States government in ordering more troops to the border and calling out the militia of Texas, Arizona and New Mexico is responsible for the changed attitude of Obregon.

The tension was slightly relieved here today and it was predicted by American army officers that the situation would continue to improve. They believe that the Mexican officials in order to avoid a rupture will now do everything possible to prevent a break. It is well established that the representatives of the American government have explicit instructions to avoid a rupture of relations.

HURLEY ROAD TO BE IMPROVED

Supervisors Take the Necessary Action—Salary of Unden Sheriff Raised—Resolutions on Death of Supervisor Thompson.

The board of supervisors met in special session at the court house Monday evening for the purpose of acting on several matters needing official action. The call for the session was read by Clerk Henry R. DeWitt. A communication was received from City Clerk Cummings transmitting a copy of Mayor Canfield's appointment of Former District Attorney Frederick Stephan, Jr., as supervisor of the Ninth Ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Captain A. Wesley Thompson, and was filed. A communication from the family of Captain Thompson expressing the appreciation of the board's kind expression of sympathy for the loss of his death, was received and placed on file. Supervisor Stephan introduced resolutions relative to Captain Thompson's death, expressing the board's appreciation of his worth and value to the county and deeply deploring his loss. His career reflected credit not only on the community but the county. The resolutions were adopted by a rising vote. Two joint resolutions introduced by Supervisors Saxe of Hurley and Brink of Ulster, approved the plans for the improvement of the Hurley road from Cutler's hotel to Washington avenue, the plans having been prepared following the introduction of resolutions four years ago by Supervisor Saxe for the improvement of the road in the town of Hurley is 1.21 miles; in the town of Ulster, .52 of a mile, and in the city of Kingston, one mile, a total distance of 2.73 miles. The road will be constructed as a county highway at a total cost of $46,000, of which the state will pay $23,504.67; the county of Ulster will pay $12,825; the city of Kingston, $2,107.33, and for extra work, $7,360. The board directed that $15,995.33 be made immediately available by the county treasurer. The resolutions were adopted.

WOLF R. FISH SUES FRANK DOW

Doings Along the Great White Way of Ellenville Figures Largely in a Slander Suit in which Judge Wolf is a Witness.

Conspicuous figures along Ellenville's gay white way are concerned in an action placed on trial before Judge Chester and a jury in supreme court this morning in which Wolf R. Fish, restaurateur, seeks to recover $15,000 damage from Frank Dow, bon vivant and retired dealer in essences, for alleged slander. Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., with City Judge Brinier of counsel appears for Fish while Attorney Cleon Murray with former City Judge N. Frank O'Reilly represents Dow. Fish alleges Dow proclaimed him a forger and called him other names falsely, much to his damage.

Both reside in Ellenville. It is Dow's predilection for looking upon the wine when it is red that gave rise to the action. At certain times, averaging about once a year, according to his counsel, he goes on sprees, during which it is his habit to fill up first and then fill in checks in payment for his refreshments, such checks having already been signed by him.

Some time in September, 1913, while treating "the boys" in Fish's emporium, the defense claims, Dow asked for his bill and was told it was $25.35, which, it is claimed, is a fair price even for Ellenville. Accordingly he produced a check which was filled in for $25, a discount of 35 cents being given. This, however, Fish refused to accept, throwing it down behind the bar. Another was produced, filled in and accepted.

Washington—Germany assumes responsibility for attack on steamer Sussex. Understood Germany will make full settlement for American claims of indemnity.

Paris—Lull fallen in fighting on Verdun. No infantry action during night and little artillery activity.

was the reply the witness claimed that Fish made and asserted that the proprietor incidentally called up "the house," some dozen or fifteen occupants of the barroom. Fish's action in throwing down the first check behind the bar was described as was the acceptance of the second check.

Attorney Canfield asked Solomon on cross examination if he had ever been convicted of a crime. In spite of an indignant denial, counsel elicited from the witness the fact that he had once paid Ike Freer, the chief of police of Ellenville, $5, which he had been fined for a row in Fish's saloon. "I'll tell you all about it," excitedly exclaimed the witness, when Attorney O'Reilly asked him what was the nature of the "high crime."

Bench and Barroom. "I went into Fish's place and they were playing cards. Justice of the Peace Wolf and two other men. I saw Wolf had a pretty good hand and told him if he played differently he would win the game." Thereupon one of the players took offense and Solomon admitted he "kind of got out of his temper" and when pushed against the door by this man, "swung at him." One "swung" was what cost the $6, but was worth the money, according to the witness, who convulsed the court room when he proudly concluded: "I'm a pretty good pinocle player, I am."

Israel Rosen, who said he was a good friend of Mr. Fish, told how he was invited up to get in on the drinks. He said that Dow was "awful drunk" when he left the saloon. He said there were 12 or 15 in the barroom at the time but could name only three. Asked about consulting with attorneys for the defense, he denied it and exhibited his check and subpoena.

"I'm against Murray," he declared, "he's got a case against me." After asking somebody to "so drop me dead if I'm not telling the truth," Rosen left the stand.

Henry Seymour, who said he was "a friend of everybody," testified that taking Dow into the saloon at the time and that he was drunk on the street. He said he told Mr. Fish that Dow had had enough but that the latter said Dow was good for all he could drink. Seymour left the place early and did not see the exchange of checks.

Floyd Garrison, bookkeeper of the Home National Bank at Ellenville, identified the checks and passbook entries and court took a recess at noon with Garrison on the stand.

Unless They Comply With Regulations of Health Board They Will be Issued Permits to Sell Grade C Milk Only.

At the meeting of the board of health on Tuesday the sanitary inspector, Dr. Harold Clarke, was instructed to notify all the local milk dealers that if they do not comply with the regulations regarding Grade B milk permits will be prepared for Grade C milk, and will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board.

No permits to sell milk have been issued to any of the local dealers so far this year, the matter being held open to see if they could comply with the provisions of the code regulating the sale of Grade B milk, which it is said they have failed to do. In order that a permit may be issued the dealer is required to state on his application from what farm or farms he receives his milk, giving the scoring of the farm. Twenty-three farms selling milk to local dealers have not filed the certificate of physical examination of their herds as required, and fifteen farms have not made the required score card. Of this fifteen the majority could make the required number of points by a little labor and care, without expending any money. All of the local dealers are labeling and selling their milk as Grade B milk, but the dealers who have not complied with the regulations will have their permits prepared for Grade C milk and the permits will be acted upon at the next meeting of the board. This means that a dealer who is issued a permit for Grade C milk will undoubtedly be unable to get the same price for his milk as those selling Grade B as his customers will demand a higher grade than Grade C for the price they are at present paying for milk.

U.S. MILEAGE BOOKS 2.9 CENTS A MILE

Question on Which Lawyers, Public Service Commission and Court of Appeals Were Divided Decided in Favor of Railroad.

Albany, May 10.—Eighteen lawyers who have passed judicially, or in a quasi-judicial way on the right of the Public Service Commission to permit an increase in mileage book rate above the statutory limit of two cents a mile, have divided evenly on the proposition. As the Court of Appeals, however, stood four to three for the power of the commission to permit such an increase that has been the finally prevailing opinion.

The Ulster & Delaware Railroad applied to the up-state Public Service Commission last year for permission to increase its mileage book rates from two to three cents a mile. Though the road showed clearly that its losses on this business entitled it to an increase of rate, the commission held that a section of the railroad law providing that all railroads over one hundred miles in length must sell mileage books at two cents a mile, applied to the Ulster & Delaware, and refused to grant the increase because holding that its power was limited against doing so by this statutory requirement.

There was division even on the commission, which for the first time in its history is composed entirely of lawyers. A minority of two commissioners contended that the enactment of the Public Service Commission law subsequent to the enactment of the above referred to section of the railroad law gave the commission complete power over rates without regard to the previous specific enactment. The counsel of the commission concurred with the majority so that the matter then stood four to two. The Appellate Division stood three to two against the commission and the Court of Appeals four to three.

The Court of Appeals having decided that the commission had the power to permit increases above the statutory limit, the commission now, upon the road's showing that its practically six-month busy season made the sale of mileage books unprofitable, has permitted the rate to be increased to two and nine tenths cents, or one tenth of a cent above the rate paid for straight law for that rate into effect. The road and its effect has been followed by other railroads at the state.

Kidd Appeal Argued.

Before the Court of Appeals at Albany Tuesday the appeal of the New York Central Railroad Co. from the $17,350 verdict recovered by John Kidd, as executor of George W. Witt, was argued. Witt was killed August 18, 1911, when his automobile was struck by a railroad train on a grade crossing near Walden. On the first trial a $20,000 verdict was obtained and struck off against the railroad division.

WHIPPED ALPHONSO TOLD HIS TALE

At the Annual School Meeting of District No. 3, Town of Marbletown—Officers Elected and Other Business Transacted at a Lively Meeting.

Marbletown, May 10.—The annual school meeting of District No. 3, town of Marbletown, was held at the school house here last week, and was entertained when Michael J. Brown and his son, Alphonso, recited how during the past winter the teacher had whipped the boy. The boy illustrated where the teacher had applied the whipping.

The first order of business at the meeting, which was attended by the taxpayers of the district, was the election of a chairman and John Oliver was unanimously selected. The privilege of the floor was then extended by the chairman to Mr. Brown who recited at great length how the teacher had "unjustly whipped his boy." Mr. Brown said that the teacher was "too snappy."

At this juncture one of the members interrupted to remark "We need a snappy teacher." He then went on to praise the work of the teacher and said that his children had learned more during a week at school with her than for the full term under another teacher.

After some further talk on the part of various ones present Mr. Brown had his son stand up and illustrate how the teacher had whipped him. Alphonso said that the teacher had used "a big black whip."

"Did she whip you good and hard?" asked G. N. Oliver, who had listened closely to the boy's recital.

"Yes, sir," responded Alphonso.

"All right, sit down," commanded Mr. Oliver.

The discussion was brought to a close by the chairman who proceeded to the next order of business, the election of officers.

As there was a vacancy on the board of trustees the meeting elected Hamilton Gillespie a trustee to fill the vacancy.

The officers elected were Jesse DuBois, clerk; G. N. Oliver, treasurer, and Jacob I. Markle, collector.

It was voted to raise $400 for current expenses of the school year.

The board of trustees have re-engaged Miss Ida DuBois of Sundown as teacher of the school for another year, and it is evident from their action in the matter that they did not take much "stock" in the alleged unjust whipping of Mr. Brown's son.

Creamed Onions With Parsley.—Cook peeled onions in boiling, salted water until tender. For six onions melt three tablespoonfuls of butter, add three tablespoonfuls of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt and paprika; stir until well blended, then add a cupful of rich milk and half a cupful of the water in which the onions were boiled; cook until smooth and pour over the onions; sprinkle generously with finely-minced parsley just before serving.

Chestnuts With Bermuda Onions.—Select small, even-sized onions, and parboil for 15 minutes; drain and set in a buttered casserole. For six onions take a cupful of tomato puree, chili pepper, cut in shreds, four sprigs of parsley, a teaspoonful of salt and boiling water or broth to just cover the onions; let cook an hour, then add a cupful of blanched chestnuts and cook another hour. Serve when both chestnuts and onions are tender. Thicken the sauce with butter and flour before serving.

Cheese and Onion Sandwiches.—Cream or cottage cheese mixed with seasonings of salt, red pepper, and finely minced onion or chives spread on buttered white bread.

Admiral Sandwiches.—Have ready rounds of bread fried in butter, two for each service. Mix a teaspoonful of curry to a paste with four tablespoonfuls of worcestershire sauce and let it heat to the boiling point, then add two-thirds of a cupful of cooked chicken and one-third of a cupful of cooked ham. Spread the mixture on the slices and place in sandwiches. On top of each place a ball of parmesan cheese which has been mixed with butter. Place in the oven to get hot. Serve at once.

Shred bacon in fine strips and brown, then add a can of green string beans, turned into the hot bacon, heated and seasoned with a little salt, pepper and onion juice, with a very little vinegar, makes a most tasty dish.

Don't Miss This Opportunity!

We have only a limited number. When those are gone we will have no more.

Here is a carpet sweeper that should retail in the neighborhood of $2 because it will do—and do well—exactly what a good carpet sweeper should. It is light in weight and strong—it is perfectly sanitary—it harbors no germs. It is all metal, enameled in mahogany grain and nickel plated trimmed. It is fitted with best brittle brush and "easy clean" pans. The wheels are rubber-tired and spring set, thus allowing the brush to get close to the carpet and pick up the smallest particles of dirt. Elastic webbing prevents scratching the furniture, and a metal cap socket prevents the handle from coming loose.

A sweeper like the "Hygena" is needed in every home, because it is more sanitary than the broom, and, being built of steel, will last for years. You will note the easy running of the "Hygena" and how strongly it is built. Note—So as to give everyone an opportunity of owning one of the Sweepers—only one sold to a customer.

DEFENDANT WINS AUTOMOBILE CASE

A verdict for the defendant of no cause for action was returned by the jury in the case of Mrs. Maude Van DeMark of Ellenville against Warren E. Burns this morning in supreme court. The jury agreed within an hour after receiving the case Tuesday afternoon and sealed its verdict. Attorney Amos Van Etten of counsel for Mr. Burns. Motion for a new trial was denied.

The action was brought for $15,000 damages as the result of an auto accident in May of last year on Merrick Road, Long Island. Attorney Robert C. Moore appeared for the plaintiff with John K. DeVany counsel. Attorney R. C. Bouvard appeared for the defendant with Mr. Van Etten. The trial has taken more than two days and the last witness called, Mrs. Samira Lohnes, mother of Mrs. Burns and an occupant of the defendant's car, proved a charming old lady who was most positive in her statements as to the accident. The Van DeMarks claimed there was a collision while the defense was that the plaintiff's car shot out of the road and into a telephone pole doing all the damage.

It was understood around court house corridors that an offer of settlement for $250 was made Monday night but was refused by Attorney Moore.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, May 10.—There was a large attendance of members and visitors at the 30th annual meeting of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union held at the home of the president, Mrs. Edwin A. Smiley, on Church street Monday evening. The time appointed for meeting was 8 o'clock, but on account of the heavy shower at that hour some were unable to reach the home before 8:30 o'clock. When the meeting was called to order by the president, who presided, and the following very interesting program, as prepared, was given. Mrs. George A. Menche, who was to have read an interesting paper entitled, "A Home Thrust," was unable to be present.

Singing—"New America" with Mrs. J. R. DeVany at the piano.

Devotional Exercises.

—Mrs. W. W. Graham.

Singing—"The Right Shall Prevail."

President's Report. Mrs. Smiley.

Secretary's Report. Mrs. Smiley.

—Mrs. G. F. Andrews.

Treasurer's Report. Mrs. Jere Krom.

Vocal Solo—"Spring Is Here."

—Mrs. J. W. Rapp.

Readings—"The Toll of the Nations."

—Mrs. Frank J. Potter.

"Johnnie's Arithmetic."

—Mrs. C. M. Van Kirk.

Singing—"Somebody Voted to Ruin Me."

—Mrs. De Vany and Mrs. Rapp.

Reading—"Wear the White Ribbon."

—Mrs. R. T. Cookingham.

Following the program, the annual election of officers took place. Mrs. Andrews presiding. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. Edwin A. Smiley; first vice-president, Mrs. Addison Stratton; second vice-president, Mrs. Henry J. Shurtz; third vice-president, Mrs. William Booth, Jr.; secretary, Mrs. George F. Andrews; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles H. Van Kirk; treasurer, Mrs. Jere Krom; assistant treasurer, Mrs. John R. DeVany; pianist, Mrs. De Vany. The local union sustained the loss of two of its members during the past year. Active members, Mrs. D. H. Fuller; honorary, John R. Hunt. Several new members have been added to the union during the year, just closed. Several new members are the young lady teachers of our home public and high schools. The union has a bright outlook, and yet there is much work to be done. The watch word is to be the slogan, "New members." That the work of the W. C. T. U. may move rapidly on. At the close of the very interesting and profitable program refreshments were served, coupled with a very pleasant social intercourse. The June meeting will be held on Wednesday the 22d. Place to be announced later.

Communion of the Lord's supper was observed at the M. E. Church on Sunday morning. The service was in charge of the pastor, the Rev. W. H. Moser. At the evening service the Rev. F. H. Deming, superintendent of the Newburgh district, delivered the sermon. At the close of the service the first quarterly conference of the year was held.

On Sunday evening next the Masonic fraternity are to attend in a body the service at the M. E. Church. The Rev. W. H. Moser, pastor, will deliver the sermon and there will be special music by the choir, under the direction of Organist Frank J. Campbell.

Work is progressing on Scoresby Hose Company's new garage. The runways have been paved and they are so graded that when the automobile truck is released it will run down grade to start its engine as soon as the switch is turned on. The car will run in from Liberty street side and come out on Maple avenue.

The new creamery on the east side of the village has been finished and the machinery will soon be installed. A number of dairies have been engaged and good business is expected.

Thomas Eckert of New York spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. A. N. Rapp, on Main street.

George Van Gaasbeck of Brooklyn, formerly of Ellenville, is spending a few days in town.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Rose entertained the members of the "Monday Night Club" at their home on South Main street Monday evening.

Mr. Constant Improving.

M. R. Contant, master mechanic at the Ulster & Delaware railroad, who was injured in an automobile accident on Sunday, is slowly improving at his home on Broadway.

FABLE OF THE THERMOMETER.

How a Wayward Little Elf Was Put In a Prison and Kept There For the Benefit of Mankind—Things of Interest to Small Folks—Girl Policemen.

Polly Ann and Little Ned were looking at the thermometer when just then Uncle Ben came in and told about—

'AN ELF FROM FAIRYLAND.

Once there lived in Fairyland a capricious little elf named Quicksilver. This was not her real name, but was given to her one day by the king of fairies in a fit of anger at her waywardness. Quicksilver was never to be counted on at all. When one thought to find her visiting the Rose Fairy, whose home was by the garden wall, she had already left and was fishing here and there like a streak of lightning. She led all of the fairy folk such a dance that they decided to teach her to be more reliable. But she was such a sprightly little thing and looked so pretty in her dainty silver frock that they hesitated to change her.

One day when the queen had planned some work for Quicksilver and she had slipped away and could not be found the king's patience was exhausted, and he called his counselors to help him devise a punishment. They decided to build a little glass house for her without doors, through which she might attempt to escape, and to place a little ladder at the rear so that she might climb up and look out upon the scenes of her former naughtiness.

They had difficulty in catching her, but at last she was placed in her new domicile and forced to remain there forever. In the summer, when her friends the flowers, bees and butterflies were about, Quicksilver climbed high up on her little ladder to look at her former comrades with longing eyes. In the winter, however, when these sought shelter from Jack Frost and were nowhere to be seen, she felt sad and lonely and slipped down into her little room and would not allow herself to be seen but for an occasional peep when the day was warmer. Then she climbed in the hope of seeing one of her dear ones.

One day a wise mortal noticed Quicksilver and studied her habits. He determined to make her useful in the world by teaching them to other men. To this day we look at her as she sits in her little glass house, and when one asks mother, "Shall I put on my warm coat today?" she answers, "Go and see what the thermometer is doing."

How Silver Bow Creek Was Named.

Silver Bow creek received its name from a party of prospectors who reached its valley in the vicinity of Butte in 1864. While discussing the best name for the stream the clouds broke away, and the sunshine falling on the creek as it circled around the mountain suggested the name Silver Bow, and it was accordingly so called.—United States Geological Survey.

Facts

GET the facts on the operating cost before you buy any automobile. Find out the truth before—not after. And don't be satisfied with hearsay or a salesman's claims. The price of gasoline is high; so is oil and there is sure to be an increase in the cost of all tires.

So, what you want is the car that will give you most miles per gallon of gasoline, per gallon of oil and per set of tires.

Here are the facts proved by the Maxwell stock touring car that recently set the World's Motor Non-Stop Record:

Maxwell World's Non-Stop Record Facts

Miles without a motor stop	22,023
Average miles per day (44 days)	500.6
Miles per gallon of gasoline	21.88
Miles per gallon of oil	400
Average miles per tire	9,871

Remember that this was a Non-Stop Endurance Record—in order to prove that the Maxwell car was exceedingly sturdy, reliable and trouble proof.

No attempt was made or could be made to save gasoline, oil or tires. So these figures merely indicate what would be possible under ordinary driving conditions.

Right now we have a Maxwell we can deliver to you, and if you don't want to pay cash, make a deposit and pay the balance as you use the car. But don't put it off. We know the Maxwell factory can't get half enough freight cars to carry their doubled output. Later on we may not be able to supply you. But we can NOW. Better phone us for a demonstration today.

HIGHER CLASS IN 1916

President of American Association Is Quite Optimistic.

Predicts Faster Ball Will Be Played
Account Large Number of Players
Thrown on Market After Federal League Disbanded.

Faster ball will be played in the American Association during the season of 1916 than in any period in the history of the organization. The reason for this is the large number of good players that were on the market after the Federal league disbanded. The club owners of the American association were prompt in taking advantage of this situation, and I think their patrons will appreciate their energy when the season is under way. It is a fact that the Federal league developed a large number of young ball players, in fact, too many for the major leagues to take care of under the existing limitations on major league teams in the number of men they can carry.

Most of these players have come to the American association teams and this class of talent combined with the best men on the teams of last year will serve to advance the general standard of play to a plane higher than has been reached by any organization outside the two major leagues. That there has been a decided revival of interest in the national sport is evidenced by the immense crowds that attended the opening games. Everything considered, it is but reasonable to anticipate that 1916 will be the banner year of the association. With the many changes in the personnel of the teams, any prediction as to the final outcome of the pennant race before the middle of the season would be largely guesswork. Until the different combinations and changes are tested in actual play on the diamonds during the first two months of the season, their ultimate worth and comparative ability will remain in doubt. I look for a close race.

CAREER OF JIMMY CALLAHAN

Manager of Pittsburgh Pirates Broke Into Baseball Game at Pepperell, Mass., in 1893.

Jimmy Callahan, manager of the Pittsburgh National league club, broke into baseball in the semiprofessional ranks at Pepperell, Mass., in 1893. The following year he was given a trial by the Phillies and released. In 1895 he pitched for Springfield (Mass.) club and was drafted by the Kansas City (Western league) club and the Pittsburgh Nationals, being awarded to the former. The following year he went to the Chicago Nationals and pitched for that club for four years, when he was obtained by the Chicago White Sox, for whom he pitched two years. In 1903 he was made manager of the team and played "third base." The following year he resigned as manager and played in the outfield that and the following season.

From 1906 to 1910 he managed the Logan Squares of Chicago, and in 1911 he went back to the White Sox as an outfielder playing that position in 1911 and 1912. In 1913 and 1914 he was bench manager of the Sox, and during the last season he acted as business manager of the club. He is forty-one years old.

BENNY KAUFF PRAISES COBB

New York Player Denies He Ever Claimed He Was Great Player—Says He Was Misquoted.

Benny Kauff has given out an interview which sounds much better than anything he has been credited with thus far. He now denies that he ever claimed he was a great player and adds that he was misquoted last winter. He believes that Cobb is the greatest player living and will be satisfied if he can be the second best. He got a lot of good advertising from the fake interviews, though.

Not Lasting. "Lots of the burning questions of the day go up in smoke."—Exchange.

Right Thing to Ascertain. Never ask how much you can get for an article. Ask at how low a price you can sell at a profit.—W. Whitley.

NAP RUCKER, ONE OF BASEBALL'S GREATEST SOUTHERN PAWS, "ALL IN."

New York, May 10.—Nap Rucker, one of the best left handed pitchers in the history of baseball is practically "all in," and it is thought he will permanently retire from the game. Rucker has been placed on the "disabled" list by President Ebbetts of the Brooklyn Nationals. His contract with the Brooklyn team ends this year and the big fellow will probably not be seen in action again, as he declares he will never pitch for a minor league team.

Rucker had a great deal of trouble with his left shoulder last year, but thought that it had disappeared. His recent showing against the Giants however, when he was hit out of the box, showed that he can no longer control his slow ball, his most effective weapon and the delivery that made him famous.

Rucker was drafted from Augusta by the Dodgers in 1907. In that year Nap enjoyed a fine season, winning fifteen and losing 13 with a club that finished fifth. In 1908 Tucker won 17 and lost 19, and the Dodgers in the third and last season of Pat Donovan's regime, finished seventh. In 1909 Nap won 18 and lost 19, a percentage of 46.6, with a team placed six with 350. It was 17 and 18, 22 and 18, 18 and 21, 14 and 15, 7 and 6 and 9 and 4 in the following years.

Putting the "Win" in Window

A show window in itself is one arm of business getting.

Newspaper advertising is the strong, powerful body.

When the two are linked together they make a business team with a punch.

Merchants frequently effect this combination by linking their windows with the manufacturer's newspaper advertising.

They put the goods in the window at the time the manufacturer's newspaper advertising is running and thus bring business to their stores. This is literally putting the "win" in window.

VICTOR'S BAND AND THE BLIND PLAYERS

Fine Program Arranged for Tonight at the Last Session of Kingston's Chautauqua—Many Heard Mrs. Booth Last Night.

This is the last day of Kingston's Chautauqua and an exceptionally fine program has been arranged for this evening's program. Victor's Band will render a fine concert and Miss Ethel Bentley will sing. The band will render a number of popular as well as classical selections. The program will be brought to a close with the blind players in "The Kerry Courting," which illustrates the occupations of the blind.

Tuesday evening the Strollers' Male Quartet gave a fine program, which was followed by an interesting and instructive address by Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, the little mother of the prisons.

DENTISTS TEST THEIR TEETH.

Annual Banquet of Cady Dental Corporation in Poughkeepsie.

The Cady Dental Corporation held its annual banquet in the small dining room of the Nelson House, Poughkeepsie, last night. There were 12 directors and office managers present.

Kingston was represented by Dr. Ernest K. Lee and Dr. William N. Brewer; Peekskill sent Dr. T. B. Smith and Dr. W. L. Walling. Newburgh was represented by Dr. Arthur Chesterfield and Dr. L. R. Owens. Middletown sent Dr. E. F. Randolph and Dr. Harold C. Rose.

Dr. William L. Rhoades, Dr. L. V. Sherman and Dr. L. M. Clark represented the Poughkeepsie office. Dr. Frederick C. Tanner represented the large central laboratory of the corporation, and John F. Barringer the business department.

The banquet was one of the Nelson House's best efforts. It was enjoyed by all the dentists. After the banquet those present went to the Cady Dental office at No. 284 Main street and held their annual election of officers and transacted other business.

Dr. Arthur Chesterfield, the president of the Cady Dental Corporation, gave the address of welcome. After several scientific papers were read they went into executive session and elected officers.

Dr. Arthur Chesterfield of Newburgh was chosen president. Dr. W. L. Rhoades of Poughkeepsie vice-president, Dr. Ernest K. Lee, Kingston treasurer, Dr. V. L. Sherman of Poughkeepsie secretary, and John F. Barringer, business manager.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

1584—A Desirable and Comfortable Garment.

This attractive style is nice for eiderdown, flannel, flannelette, silk, satin or blanket cloth. It is ideal for traveling, as a sleeping garment comfortable and easy to develop. The hood may be omitted. Blue and white flannel or "ducking" fleece, with the lining of the hood of blue wash silk, would be nice for this model. White or pink eiderdown with lining of self color is also attractive. The pattern is cut in 5 sizes, 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 years. It requires ¾ yard for the hood and 3½ yards for the robe of 27-inch material for an 8-year size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

Catalogue Notice.

Send 10 cents in silver or stamps for our up-to-date 1916 large Spring and Summer Catalogue, containing over 400 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, as well as the latest Embroidery Designs, also a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking, giving valuable hints to the home dressmaker.

A Complete Manual in Crochet and Tatting!

Just what you will say when you get our interesting book. Our Crochet and Tatting Book contains more than 50 pages of fully illustrated designs such as: French net, dresden, trap, clove, novel lace, lacework, edgings, yokes, collar covers, etc., and gives a variety of Tatting designs for baby-linen, etc. Below each article illustrated in our Catalogue book will be found a complete list of materials required, and a list of the various stitches and stitches used in making up the articles. The complete Manual will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents in stamps or silver. Write your name and address plainly and address your letter to the Pattern Dept., Freeman Publishing Co., Kingston, N. Y.

THAT'S SAY.

Blackstone has long smoothed the highways and byways to legal knowledge but as a spread for streets the name as well as the process has a distinct novelty. Wall street is now torn up for the first top-dressing of this material and it Blackstone proves as powerful a road making material as legal authority, the precedent now being established in the Wall street experiment should be of far-reaching influence.

In a clothes-press in the sheriff's office hangs a fisherman's creel whose bottom has been recently reinforced with strong copper wire threaded in with the fibre to lend extra strength to the carrier. This shining wire conveys nothing to the average observer but to the initiate it means that Jailer Seth Jocelyn is getting ready for his annual pilgrimage to the trout streams of his youth in the vicinity of Big Indian. So far this season thousands of fishermen have invaded the Catskills with more or less success, usually less. But Jailer Jocelyn has not worried because as an expert angler he is well aware that the late season means few early fish. When Jocelyn joins the joy-riding jitters parties hiking mountainward it may be depended upon that there is something doing. So along about the middle of May the sheriff's office force will cut out their meat orders in anticipation of some speckled beauties from Big Indian, tributes to the flycasting ability of Jailer Jocelyn.

If some of the inventors of gasoline substitutes do not make good pretty soon, Chamber of Commerce directors fear that the practice of giving automobiles trips around the city and vicinity will be a pretty severe test on the loyalty of Kingston autoists. However, committees are at work for the three conventions to be held in Kingston this summer and it is believed that plenty of cars will be available to give visitors some idea of the scenery among the Catskills.

SAFETY FIRST ON FAIR STREET.

Why Should That Street be Made Narrower Than it Is?

Editor Freeman.

Dear Sir:—Having read in The Freeman that the board of public works contemplates putting the curb at the southeast corner of Fair street and Maiden Lane a foot or more further out in Fair street, the writer is at a loss to understand why this action is deemed advisable. I have occasion very frequently to board the trolley car there and have often remarked that this particular corner is one of the safest in the residential sections of the city, on account of the admirable width of the street at this intersection. Women and children can now stand out in the street to signal a car and there is ample room for an automobile to pass behind them with perfect safety. In these days of speedy automobile travel, the width of an automobile fender means a whole lot, especially between the trolley track and the curb, and particularly around a turn.

Moreover, in winter when the snow is thrown from the car track and from sidewalk and gutter, everybody has had experience with narrow spaces between track and curb.

It would seem, indeed, that in these dangerous days, any aesthetic ideas of symmetry, contour, conformity or conventionalization ought to yield to the sound principle of "safety first." When, as at present, there is a stretch of about seventy feet of good wide street at this spot, why encroach upon it even one inch and spoil it?

Newest Spring Coats, Suits, Dresses and Skirts
All Included in This Anniversary Sale

Part of this sale is made up of special purchases. Most of it is the result of careful planning and copying high-class models at a less expense. These models reproduce styles that were double these prices earlier in the season, and worth it by every standard of value. The fact that the season has advanced is a reason why manufacturers were able to undertake this work for us, using up their remainders of fine fabrics. To these we have added certain lots ordered and intended for our Easter Sales, but which arrived too late because of delayed shipment. We have put these in at reduced prices because of concessions by the makers.

ROBERTS ESTATE SHOWS BIG PROFIT

Further bearing on the final accounting of Frank B. Lown of Poughkeepsie as executor of the estate of Dr. Charles H. Roberts of Oakes, town of Lloyd, was adjourned by Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court Tuesday afternoon until May 31.

The account of the executor shows that the inventoried value of the estate was $1,262,362.58. The income until the executor filed his account in January of this year had amounted to $199,771.26, and the estate had increased $328,086.32, showing a total value at that date of $1,590,448.86.

Certain of the securities had depreciated in value during the same period and the total decrease in value on that account up to January 4 last was $22,177.75. Advances had been made to the members of the Roberts family, and in addition their indebtedness to the estate amounted to $164,284.02. At that time the executor had on hand, according to the account, cash amounting to $37,665.51, and securities totaling $368,012, a total of $405,677.51.

A supplemental account filed recently shows a balance on hand of nearly $60,000.

All the legatees object to two items in the executor's account. One item is the payment of $715.35 to Harry C. Barker of Poughkeepsie, the executor's attorney, for expenses, and another item is a payment to Mr. Barker of $20,200.69 for services.

All the objections are on the ground that the payments were excessive. Miss Frances Roberts in addition objects to the schedule of distribution, which she says is theoretical and not consented to by all the legatees. She contends that the other legatees should have been required to pay the amount of their indebtedness to the executor in cash which then should have been distributed among all the legatees, instead of distributing the equivalent in securities at the value of such securities on the date of the decree, because the securities had greatly depreciated in value since then. Miss Frances Roberts also objects to the commissions of $6,784.95 claimed by Executor Lown on the ground that they were not properly computed and she asks that he be allowed the fees fixed by law. She also objects because the executor has not collected six per cent interest on the amount of the indebtedness of the other legatees, and has not charged himself with interest.

Howard Chipp is counsel for Miss Frances Roberts; Judge Parker is counsel for Miss Grace V. B. Roberts; Arthur McCausland is counsel for Catherine E. F. ### Victrola and Gifts Appreciated.

Just what the curative value of music is or may be has not yet been decided by the scientists of today, but one fact has been fully established by our Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital, and that is that music goes a long way toward cheering and encouraging the patients at the hospital, and this mental state does certainly react beneficially. For this reason certain gifts from friends of the hospital and patients are most heartily appreciated by the patients themselves as well as the board of managers and those most closely connected with the anti-tuberculosis work in the county, on behalf of the last named persons, the Hon. Joseph M. Fowler, president of both the board of managers of the Tuberculosis Hospital and the Ulster county committee on the prevention of tuberculosis, makes public the following statement:

"At a meeting of the board of managers of the Ulster county tuberculosis hospital with the executive committee of the Ulster county committee on the prevention of tuberculosis, a resolution was duly and unanimously carried that the board express its hearty appreciation for the gifts of a Victrola and records, tape and other equipment for the hospital music room, the purchase of all of which was rendered possible by generous private gifts and the proceeds of the cake sales recently held by the friends of the hospital."

Buys Rhinebeck Real Estate.

Deeds recorded Monday in the Dutchess county clerk's office show that Edward C. Conover of this city has acquired title to five parcels of land at Rhinebeck, mainly on the road leading from Rhinebeck to the Hudson river. There are five different parcels involved in the transaction. From Francis Curran and wife 127 acres of land with all improvements thereon. This estate extends along the lands of the late James Kipp following the line of the Rhinebeck kill or creek. The four other parcels were of record in the names of John O'Brien prior to 1884 of W. H. Hager, prior to 1882 of Nina Heermance, and Alida G. Radcliffe and other prior to 1883. A nominal consideration is stated in the deeds.

Cake Sale at Miss Dendy's.

The Ladies' Aid Circle No. 3 of the Methodist Presbyterian Church will hold a cake sale on Friday afternoon of this week, May 12, at the home of Miss Dendy, No. 294 Broadway, beginning at 2 o'clock. This will afford an excellent opportunity to purchase delicious home-made food for over Sunday meals.

where he has been active in temperance and prohibition work for some time, who will also speak.

The Rev. F. B. Seelye, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, has become enthusiastic in the proposed Prohibition campaign and has made an offer to the campaign committee to discontinue the prayer meeting service in his church that evening. It is expected that all the other churches in town will discontinue their prayer meeting service that evening except the Albany Avenue Baptist Church, which has arranged more than a month ago for a special meeting of unusual interest to the members of that congregation for that night.

Arrangements for the high school meeting have been instituted by a traveling representative of the Anti-Saloon League and will be conducted by local representatives of the league, which intends to make a political issue of the question of National Prohibition.

Local C. E. Union Notes.

There will be a special meeting of the executive committee of the Kingston Local Union of Christian Endeavor at the Y. M. C. A. on Friday evening, May 12, at 7:45 o'clock. Matters of importance will be brought up before the committee and it is desired that all members of the committee be present at the meeting.

On Sunday evening, May 14, the Local Union of Christian Endeavor will pay an official visit to the Poughkeepsie Church C. E. Society, and it is hoped that a large delegation will be present from the various societies of the union in this city. These going will meet at the Poughkeepsie Church at 8:30 p. m. Each member is asked to be prepared to say something regarding the regular C. E. topic for that Sunday evening.

Oldest Man is Dead.

Cortland, N. Y., May 10. —Connell Devlin, known in this vicinity as the oldest man in New York state, died at his home at Saunier Hill near here early this morning. He was 115 years old. Devlin came to this country from Ireland at an early age and located at Tarrytown. In 1867 he married Margaret Smiddy of Tarrytown. Mrs. Devlin, three daughters and one son survive him.

WEANING THE FARM COLT.

Grain Should Be Substituted as Milk Is Taken Away.

To wean a colt appears to be a simple matter. It is simple as many do it, yet the very low degree of success that is shown on many farms by their unthrifty colts is evidence that there is something wrong or that there is something lacking, writes J. E. McCartney of Purdue university experiment station. Often in a few weeks during weaning time the comparative changes from the growing, sleek, milk fat colt to a stiff haired and unthrifty, stunted individual. The colt if properly cared for need lose but little of his flesh, bloom and spirit.

Grain must be used as the milk is taken away. It is necessary that the colt have been taught to eat grain before weaning is attempted. Oats have always been preferred by horsemen for young colts. They are undoubtedly superior to any other single grain. The colt likes a mixture of a variety of grains and will thrive best on such a ration. He refuses corn and it may well be fed as part of the grain ration. It may be said that corn contains a rather high percentage of fat. True, it does, and so does milk, which is as nearly ideal food as nature can make. Corn should not be fed alone nor in too great quantities. Bran is a splendid feed and contains material for long and muscle. A mixture of oats 50 per cent, corn 30 per cent and bran 10 per cent makes a ration that will enable any colt to grow rapidly. A handful of alfalfa may be profitably added. Then he will be more likely to eat enough to almost make up for the lack of milk.

In the opinion of experts the prohibition of the exportation of Percheron horses from France will greatly stimulate the demand for that breed in America. It therefore behooves breeders of heavy draft horses in this country to make the most of their opportunity. The stallion here shown is a Percheron.

Hay should be provided in plenty. Doubtless alfalfa or clover is the most desirable for young growing colts. Both grain and hay should be of the very best quality. If it is at all possible to furnish succulent grass for the colt it should be done. This is a big factor in preventing any check in the growth of the youngster. Naturally the colt will miss the company of its dam. If it has been accustomed to stay in the stable or yard while the mother is out at work there will be less fretting on that account. If the youngster has followed the dam constantly and has never been kept separated from her he should be broken gradually to stay away from her if it is at all convenient to do so.

If there are several colts on the farm it is best to wean all of them at the same time. The youngsters love company, and if there are two or more of them together they will fret and worry less.

MONEY IN SHEEP.

Good Ration For Lambs Intended For the Early Market.

Lambs that are intended for fall market should not be weaned until late in summer. In fact, ewes will naturally wean their own lambs, writes a correspondent of the Orange-Judd Farmer. But the time from birth until the marketing of the lamb presents many problems. When a ewe gives an abundance of milk it is not wise to feed until near weaning time. But it is always a good plan to give some dry feed, so the lamb is accustomed to it when it is to be taken from its mother. The simplest way is to arrange a creep trough which they can go into a small lot or section of the pasture. The creep must exclude the older sheep, as they do not need the grain.

Lambs with light coats when two weeks old, or at least within a month. A satisfactory mixture when the best lambs are to be grown for the earliest market is one of three-fourths cornmeal and one-fourth bran by weight. At first they will eat only a little, but after a time they will eat about half a pound daily. At first give only a little feed. At no time have feed in the trough to be picked over. The creep trough will make the lambs rely on every helping. Never at any time let any of the feed grow stale. If there is no corn on hand ground barley is satisfactory. Ground oats are good, but with them there is no need to feed the bran. Keep the lambs in the best growing condition at all times.

The late fattening in the fall is regarded as an ideal feed. In such a case only the growth is secured, and the fat covering steadily placed over the body during the latter part of the feeding period.

POULTRY FACTS

GOOD RATION FOR FATTENING

Improvement in Quality of Fowls May Be Had by Using Little Time—Confine in Pen.

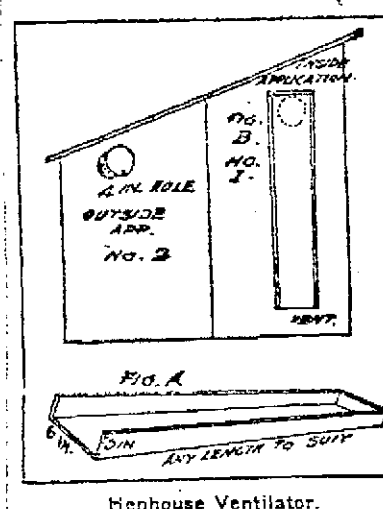

Just a little time spent in fattening birds will greatly improve their quality. The following ration has been recommended by the poultry husbandman of the Nebraska college of agriculture as being most economical for that state, and giving satisfactory results in fattening chickens: Sixty per cent cornmeal, 40 per cent low-grade flour, 20 per cent wheat middlings. Mix and skim milk to the consistency of a batter, and feed morning and night. Starve the birds for twelve hours previous to their first feeding. This will sharpen their appetites. Fatten for two weeks in a small pen or crate, until ready for killing. This will deprive the fowls of exercise, and the muscles will become soft. Faty tissue will be taken on between the muscle fibers, which will greatly aid in the cooking process.

Don't kill the bird when the crop is full. Starve for 24 hours and provide all the water they will drink. If the chicken is to be roasted, remove the crop either with the viscera or by making an incision next to the spinal column, where it will not show when the bird is severed. The cords or tendons of the crop may be easily removed by partly severing the shank at the hook joint. Then, after locating the cords by making a lengthwise incision in the scaly portion of the leg, fasten the leg securely and pull steadily until the cords tear loose.

VENTILATION FOR HENHOUSE

Six-Inch Board, With Three-Inch Strips, May Be Used for Incoming or Outgoing Current.

Take a six-inch board, nail a three-inch strip on either side and box up one end. Make a four-inch hole in siding, near the roof, place boxed end of trough over the hole on the inside of building with bent end down and fasten by toenailing or with cleats. Says a writer in the Western Farmer. This is for incoming fresh air. Take a piece of galvanized iron six inches in diameter and screw on the outside of henhouse over one edge of hole. Use the ventilator regulator according to outside temperature and direction of wind. To provide for the release of impure air use the same device, but reverse the application, making holes in the bottom of siding with boxed end of trough down and bent end up. This will ventilate without draft.

CHOOSING GRAINS FOR MASH

Best to Have Them Ground About Same Fineness—Hens Pick Out Larger Pieces of Corn.

In choosing grains for a dry mash, it is better to have them ground about the same fineness. Hens are greedy creatures; they are inclined to pick out the big pieces of corn and wheat, and leave the finer bits till the last.

A gentleman who made his mash by the hit-and-miss system of mixing cracked grains, ground grains and flour together, found that when the birds reached the last of the mash in the hopper, they got too much cottonseed meal—one of the ingredients of his mash which we do not recommend—in the finer portion, and he lost several birds from acute indigestion.

Produce Vigorous Chickens.

In mating, remember vigor, vitality, health. Any bird may produce, but it is the mating of strong, vigorous birds that produce the vigorous chicks, the only kind that pay.

Origin of Pekin Duck.

The Pekin duck is of Chinese origin. Like the Ayresbury, it has a white plumage, and the legs are set far back, giving it an upright carriage.

Fowls Cannot Smell.

Fowls do not possess the sense of smell; they have nostrils but not noses. It is up to the keeper to detect a foul or unhealthful odor.

Charcoal Helps Poultry.

Feed plenty of charcoal, as it is one of the best things for keeping the poultry healthy.

A Joke That Miscarried

By ETHEL HOLMES

Jim and John Emerson, twin brothers, dressed alike as they looked alike. They wore their beards alike, and their voices were as nearly the same as two violins. They were married on the same day and went to live in twin houses in Atherton terrace. Every one said that there was nothing unlike about the brothers except their wives.

One day while they were lunching together at the Downtown club they concluded to swap wives for dinner. Jim was to go home to John's house, pretending to be John, and vice versa. The pretense, if successful, was to last till coffee was brought on, when John and his brother's wife were to go into Jim's and all have coffee together and laugh over what had taken place.

When John Emerson, personating Jim, went to Jim's house that afternoon shortly before the dinner hour he received the matrimonial kiss from his brother's wife, and so far as he could discover, she thought him her husband.

"Any letters?" he asked casually. "Yes," she said, handing him one addressed in a feminine hand, while she looked up into his face as he read the superscription.

John was somewhat taken aback. He did not know whether the epistle was one his brother would wish his wife to see or not. Giving it a casual glance, he put it in his coat pocket unopened and asked if the wife had spent the day pleasantly.

Mrs. Jim did not ask when he had pocketed a letter in which she was deeply interested who was the writer, for she had studied the handwriting on the envelope and could not make out that it belonged to any woman she knew, but her replies to John's remarks were not cordial, and it was evident that there was something on her mind. John endeavored to appear unconcerned, but he was obliged to admit that the letter incident had caused an unfortunate turn in his and his brother's joke.

The more John tried to placate his sister-in-law the more unpleased she became. By the time the dessert came on the table she was sitting bolt upright in her chair looking very crusty.

Meanwhile her husband was dining with his brother's wife. Jim, who was an excellent business man, had made money, while John, whose tastes were artistic, had not. Mrs. John was economical, and her principal business was to keep her husband from spending more than his limited income warranted. It had occurred to Jim that this occasion would be a good one to make his sister-in-law a present. So on his way to dinner he stopped at a jeweler's and bought a brooch, for which he paid $50. After receiving the home-coming kiss he drew the box containing his gift, opened it and held the brooch before the lady's eyes.

"See what I have brought you, dear," Mrs. Emerson's brows lowered. Instead of putting her coral fingers on the brooch she pushed it away from her.

"Why in the world did you spend money for that trinket when I have all I can do to make ends meet without it? Tomorrow morning you take it right back and leave it where you got it."

Poor Jim looked very much disgruntled. He could not confess that he was her brother-in-law instead of her husband and that it was pure gain to her. He stammered an apology, put the brooch in his pocket, adding that he "was very sorry," and took up the evening paper. Fortunately dinner was announced, and he hoped to get through it without anything more disagreeable than what had already happened.

Thus the joke that was intended to be a pleasant one, to be laughed over after dinner, miscarried. John had a letter in his pocket that he dared not open for fear of compromising his brother, and Jim stood accused of wasteful extravagance. All through the dinner Jim's sister-in-law was declining against his want of ability to keep within bounds. It was no excuse whatever that he had intended the gift for her. A gift that troubled her to pay for by skimping was no gift at all. Indeed, it was a detriment.

About 7:30 by the clock Jim Emerson was called to the telephone. "Is that you, Jim?" "Yes." "There's been a fiasco here." "There's been one here too." "The trouble is a letter received by

THE PILOT FISH.

He's Just a Common Beggar and Not a Guide For the Shark.

People who named this fish believed he served as guide and pilot, whereas he is nothing more than a beggar. Because he is usually found swimming ahead of a shark people used to think he was serving as a sentry to warn the shark when danger approached. Now we know he is lingering around for crumbs of food he can beg or pick up from the shark, yet the old name sticks, and he's called the pilot fish.

There is another old story to the effect that the pilot fish accompanied the ships when their ships were nearing the rocks, and for that reason the fish was held sacred by the ancients. They thought the fish suddenly disappeared when the ship was approaching land, thereby giving the warning.

The shark phase of the story was that the pilot fish accompanied the shark continually, and when the shark was about to take a fisherman's hook the pilot went through such contortions that the shark was warned to leave the bait alone.

So instead of standing guard as a sentry the pilot fish keeps company with the shark to pick up the fragments of food which the larger fish ignores.—Philadelphia North American.

Luxury in Puritan Days.

At no time, of course, was luxury completely absent from America. Men spend when the purse is full, even though the purse be small. Not able summary laws of seventeenth century Massachusetts could prevent her Puritans from launching into extravagance, from purchasing apparel—woolen, silk or linen with lace or in silver, gold, silk or thread. Even the pious slid back into embroidered doublets with slashed sleeves, "gold or silver girdles, hant bands, beils, ruffs, beaver hatts," while women of no particular rank appeared in forbidden silk and tiffany hoods. A century later we encounter disappointment of John Hancock's "show of extravagance in living," of his French and English furniture, his dances, dinners, carriages, wine cellars and fine clothes. Washington starved with his soldiers at Valley Forge, but lived like an English gentleman in his home at Mount Vernon. Luxury, pomp, ceremonial were not absent in the eighteenth century.—Walter E. Weyl in Harper's Magazine.

Simple.

"Those twin boys of yours are so much alike that I don't see how you can tell them apart."

"That's easy enough. When they're on their good behavior they answer to their own names, and when they're been in mischief each one answers to the name of the other."—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

ONE DAY'S BUSINESS IN THE BANANA DISTRIBUTING INDUSTRY IN KINGSTON

AUTO TRUCKS OF A. H. GILDERSLEEVE, 613 BROADWAY, LOADED DOWN WITH BANANAS SO POPULAR WITH ALL CLASSES OF CONSUMERS.

Few persons are aware of the fact that Kingston is the greatest banana-distributing center in the Hudson valley and to A. H. Gildersleeve, the Broadway whole air dealer in fruits and vegetables, belongs the distinction of handling more of this tropical fruit food than any individual dealer in this section. In fact this banana trade is a business by itself, built up through Mr. Gildersleeve's personal efforts and dealing.

As shown in the photograph in which two of the three two-ton motor trucks operated by the Gildersleeve establishment are pictured just as they came from the West Shore freight yards loaded down with bananas direct from the New York wharves, bananas are beyond question a popular food hereabouts. At the store, No. 613 Broadway, large cellars are used for storing and ripening the fruit under most sanitary conditions.

Eighteen or nineteen years ago when Mr. Gildersleeve started in the fruit business, bananas were not sold to any extent in this locality. Realizing the value of the fruit as a food and its relative cheapness, Mr. Gildersleeve, through the growing popularity of the banana would soon be left in this section. This belief has been demonstrated beyond his best expectations.

Fifteen years ago 25 to 50 bunches of bananas a week were sufficient for home consumption but today from three to four car loads of 400 bunches each are required. Estimated at the small average of 120 bunches to a bunch, a car load would mean nearly 50,000 bananas and the weekly distribution would be from 150,000 to 200,000 bananas, or more than two apiece for every man, woman and child in Ulster county.

"Bananas are a good food and cheap," said Mr. Gildersleeve to a reporter. "Not only raw but cooked they are most palatable and nourishing. I believe people are fast recognizing that fact."

Mabel Trask has scored Cox's advice to sell her horse for $25,000. Pardee took the Mabel right to the lot, that much this summer—and she probably will.

Parade Bouts in New York.

Those who wish to preserve the boxing game in Gotham should fumigate immediately. The last three heavyweight bouts staged there have left an odor that is of less to an evening.

Andre Anderson, highly touted, met Charlie Weinert. In the second round or so Weinert hit Anderson and he went through the ropes—and never has come back.

Then Jack Keating was pitted against Weinert. He hardly landed a blow. The crowd hissed and booed—and then began to leave the building. In the third round the referee stopped the fight, because of Keating's feeble showing.

And then came the Fred Fulton-Al Reich bout. Two who saw the excellent fight claim that Reich could hold along in the seventh or eighth round. In the ninth a stream of jeers from the crowd influenced the referee to stop further "hotilities."

Heavyweight bouts just now are as popular in New York as are Irish rebels in the House of Lords.

Want Bigger Prizes.

The Baltimore track is demanding bigger prizes. They claim that the price of all horses incident to owning them—blood, hair, increased, and that the track profits are big enough to warrant increased stake.

It is pointed out by the horse owners that the attendance averages 5,000 daily and that the take of the mutual machines is around $175,000 each day, five per cent of which is deducted by the track officials.

"The track owners can increase all our stake at least 25 per cent and still clear big profits," asserted a horse owner. "It costs us nearly 25 per cent more to keep our horses owing to the increased feed price. It is only fair that the track men give us a square deal by boosting the size of the prizes."

Golf Rule Hits 1,000.

If the United States Golf Association strictly enforces its amateur-professional rules, it means the disqualification of at least 1,000 linksters who formerly figured as amateurs.

Hot Liners.

(By Frank G. Menke.)

"East is east; west is west.
"Never the twain shall meet."
Goes Kipling's tuneless song.
But, Rud, I know isn't wise
On baseball things and such,
So Kip, old boy, was wrong.

They gave Tris Speaker's great reception in Boston. And then the crowd cheered the Red Sox when they beat the Indians. Which goes to show that you must play on the home team to have a look-in.

They had a walking match in the Tigers-Athletics game. Thirty of the players got free tickets to start them around. Sixteen Tigers made the circuit. Only two Athletics could get around.

Baker put the Yankees in the running with a home run. Fournier put the White Sox back with another

EXPERT CUTTING

Spring Suits That Give Men Comfort

Many men imagine that all hand-tailored clothes are alike, and that they cost too much. They argue that ready-made clothes are "good enough," but before they order another suit we'd like to demonstrate what our expert tailoring means to them. We accomplish marvelous results because we carefully consider the stature, weight and the development of each individual when fitting a patron. The garments we make conform to the natural movements of the body, giving the wearer a feeling of ease and security. Come here for that next suit.

Your Money Buys Quality!

Coupons or premiums have never been used as an inducement to smoke Prince Albert!

The correctness of our belief that smokers do prefer quality rather than premiums or coupons is proven by the enthusiasm with which Prince Albert pipe and cigarette tobacco has been received throughout the civilized world! Premiums or coupons have never been offered as an inducement to smoke it!

Neither national nor state restrictions on the use of premiums or coupons can in any way affect Prince Albert's sale!

It is not to be wondered at that when smokers consider a choice of tobaccos, their tastes—based on quality—instinctively turn them to the national joy smoke

PRINCE ALBERT

Prince Albert is sold strictly on merit. It is a tobacco of choice quality, and made by an exclusive patented process that does cut out bite and parch! It took three years and a fortune to perfect that process so that today every man with a desire to smoke a pipe or roll his own cigarettes can do so without a comeback, no matter how tender his tongue or throat may be!

Your taste and satisfaction is proof that Prince Albert quality is more desirable than coupons or premiums.

You buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold, in tippy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors, and in that fine crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such perfect condition.
